PRINCIPAL'S REPORT
Strawberries, strawberries, strawberries!! Our Student Council have, this week, run a very successful strawberry drive as their annual fundraiser. A big thank you must go to Mr Hammel for his generous support of this ‘delicious’ activity. Thank you also to Mrs Cheal for her great support of the work of our Student Council.

Our Maths Challenge teams recently competed in the local Maths Challenge. A number of schools participated and two Beenleigh teams were successful in their challenges. The students came second in the years 9 -10 challenges. Congratulations to the students and a big thank you to the teachers - Ms Campbell and Ms Grantz for their support in helping our students to perform so well. Well done!

Our visits to primary schools will continue next term. Mr Howe and Mr Middleton, accompanied by a group of our students, will continue to visit the primary schools to talk to the year 6 and 7s about going into High School. If there are any prospective parents who need more information, please phone the school or book a Principal Tour through the office.

Thank you also goes to Mrs Ham, QCS co-ordinator, for putting on the QCS breakfast for our year 12 students last week. I know they enjoyed it and I hope it helped them to perform well through these demanding tests. The students, I spoke to, all felt that they performed well.

All parents are reminded that the annual contribution levy is well and truly due. The levy needs to be paid before students can participate in school activities like the senior formal. Please pay the levy as soon as is possible.

Finally, as this is our last newsletter for the term, I hope our students enjoy their break and remind all that school resumes on Tuesday 7th October. Please note that Monday is a public holiday.

YEAR 9 BOYS BEAT THE ODDS

Term 2 this year a group of 8 year 9 boys participated in the Beating the Odds program run by the Beenleigh PCYC. The program had 5 full day sessions running fortnightly aimed at challenging the boys physically and mentally as well as helping them understand the importance of consequences.

Day 1 the boys went to Thunderbird Park to complete the Tree Top challenge. This was a difficult obstacle course where the boys were required to work hard individually and show some team spirit by encouraging each other.

Day 2 had the boys work as a team to build a raft. They were successful in doing so and although at times they got frustrated they worked really well as a team.

Day 3 the boys had to battle freezing cold conditions as the journeyed through a creek. They had to work as a team to move through some cold water and work their way around some interesting obstacles.

Day 4 they were faced with an extremely challenging high ropes course. The boys got through the course by working in pairs with one encouraging the other and helping them with their safety checks as the other swang from obstacle to obstacle completing the course.
On the final day the boys were rewarded with a graduation day at Kingston park raceway where they got on the track and had a blast racing each other. Overall the program was a success with many of the boys taking back some skills they developed in Beating the Odds into their regular classes and improving significantly.

CURRUMBIN WILDLIFE SANCTUARY -

MONDAY 25TH AUGUST

Currumbin Wildlife Sanctuary offers a range of experiences for our Year 10, 11 and 12 students involved with Certificate II in Animal Studies. They have an integrated wildlife program developed by Cait (Caitlyn) Feldmann and Penny Whitehouse that enables our students to participate in “Pat n Chat” activities with a range of rescued and rehabilitated wildlife including the barking owl, python, scorpion like stick insects, flying foxes, sugar glider.

Aims of the day:-

- discovering a wildlife animals habits and behaviours
- information about how to care and rehabilitate native mammals, birds and reptiles
- dietary requirements of each animal rescued
- risks associated with each animal (bites, scratches, and zoonotic diseases)

On the same day the students were able to investigate the Sanctuary’s sustainable footprint and the sustainability operations that have enabled them to become Eco Certified in Advanced Eco Tourism! Water tanks, water recycling, solar initiatives waste recycling, energy consumption, paper use; printing and planting schemes are all topics that will be covered. Course Aims of the day included an investigation into the use of:-

- Worm Farming
- Building design
- Natural lighting
- Frog friendly gardens
- Local food sourcing
- Recycling
- Printing of photos
- Effluent water usage
- Nest boxes

The outcome is a school project to investigate one of the three sustainability practices and report back to the Sanctuary with our findings and recommendations to help improve their sustainable footprint.

The staff has been working with the school in a program that could help our Senior Agriculture Science students better understand the use of rainforests as a social, communal and food source through - “Lessons in the gardens” developed at Brisbane Botanical Gardens Mt Coottha which includes “aboriginal use of rainforests” and “plant classification”

Aboriginal people have used native plants for medicine, shelter, materials and food for tens-of-thousands of years reflecting detailed knowledge of the environment. Many plants require complex and elaborate processing and this knowledge has been passed down through the generations in legends, stories and practical demonstrations. Today there is a growing interest in traditional aboriginal cultures, bush foods and traditional medicines. The aboriginal plant trail takes you around the oldest section of the gardens, the Australian rainforest, which was planted in 1974. Our students were led by Gemma Maunders who discussed the plants and their uses, and then the students were able to sample the food products and identify those plants used for medicinal purposes.

Later the same day the students then participated in “plant classification”. The more recently developed Australian plant communities section of the gardens occupies more than half of the total area (27ha) giving a tremendous opportunity to view a large collection of Australian native plants. They investigated these plants from a number of different plant communities and completed activities to help in the classification process including sketching, reporting features and collecting samples.

With these plant collections, this educational and research program, and student access to a reference and lending library, as well as the Queensland Herbarium, the gardens have much to offer our budding professional horticulturalists.

All students who took part in the competition worked incredibly hard during the event and remained focused for the whole 2 hours of working time. Big congratulations to the year 9/10 team who came 2nd in their division, whilst both year 8 teams narrowly missed out on a place.

The students should be congratulated on their studious and mature behaviour during the event. They represented the school and themselves with pride. Thank you to Mrs Captain and Miss Campbell for taking the students along for the day. Well done to all!

PARENTS/CARERS NOTICE

- Parents/Carers please be aware that if your child is absent for any reason you must phone the absentee line on 34423760. If you need to drop off lunches, money or cooking etc, office staff will endeavour to locate your child. However sometimes with outside school/classroom activities, this is not always possible.
- If you wish your child to be signed out, please write a note with student’s name, date, time out and parent’s or carer’s signature which is to be handed into the office in the morning so passes can be arranged. Please be aware of school break times.
- Students can be contacted on their mobiles only during the lunch times (listed below).

SEVEN TRAITS OF MENTAL TOUGHNESS

In different contexts, one character trait has emerged as a predictor for success. It isn’t social intelligence, good looks, IQ, or physical health. It is “grit,” which the dictionary defines as “mental toughness”. It could be defined as resilience or the ability to “bounce back” after setbacks.

Mental toughness is the “perseverance and passion to achieve long-term goals; having stamina; sticking with your future day in and day out and working hard to make that future a reality; a marathon not a sprint.”

Studies have shown that there is a correlation between mental toughness and self-control. It takes mental toughness and self-discipline to raise kids—they have constant needs. It is difficult to deal with tantrums/ ensure homework is done/ provide healthy food choices (when even you would prefer chocolate bar over an apple)/ monitor TV, computer time/ up and out in the morning (when you would prefer to be sleeping)…… and on it goes.

Seven traits of mentally tough people

1. Look for positives & learn from mistakes
2. Face fears
3. Non-judgmental
4. Celebrate successes of others
5. Realise that the only person they can control is themself & do not blame others for their mistakes
6. Limit exposure to outside stimuli (e.g. Facebook, Angry Birds, Krispy Kreme donuts)
7. Accept and embrace change

Mentally tough people embrace change, but they understand that change must first happen in them before it happens through them. Mahatma Gandhi said it so well. “You must be the change you wish to see in the world.”

PARENTS HAVE MUCH FARTHER REACHING EFFECTS THAN THEY KNOW

We were pretty good at keeping computers and televisions out of bedrooms, but as technology developed we somehow missed that phones and tablets ARE computers. Parents may sometimes feel out of control. The majority of families own a collection of iPads, iPods, other tablets, an Xbox, a Wii, a DS, iPhones and more…

Most parents wonder if their limit setting is actually worth it as they regularly have to remind children of the boundaries with technology.

Be encouraged, it IS worth it.

A study with over 1,300 families in the US indicated some powerful benefits for children when parents set healthy limits on entertainment screen time (TV and video games) and limits of the type of content viewed.

Some effects are seen more immediately and others over time.

(Please keep in mind that ‘limiting’ does not mean banning all technology or taking everything away – it indicates a healthy balance and an inclusion of many other actives, such as sport, drama, kicking a ball, going shopping, chatting over dinner…)

Two Immediate effects of placing limits on media (which seem obvious but are great to see):

- Those children spent less time on TV and video games
- Those children saw less violent media content

However, it is the long-term effects that surprised the researchers the most. Children whose parents set more limits on the amount of time spent with media 7 months before:
1. were now getting more sleep
2. were getting better grades in school
3. had an indirectly positive change in Body Mass (as children were simply moving around more)

Additionally, parents limiting children’s content exposure (to violent media) 7 months before resulted in:
1. increased prosodical behaviour – exhibiting more helpful and cooperative pro-social behaviours at school
2. less aggressive behaviour toward their peers

CAREER HUNTER APP

New smartphone app helps young people with jobs and career opportunities

The Career Hunter app, developed from a young person’s perspective, is a simple way for young people and their parents to explore career opportunities.

Believed to be the first career exploration app of its kind, it provides information about occupations and industries, job descriptions, training and qualification requirements, and job vacancies. It makes tangible links from school to the world of work and highlights the industries were skills are most needed.

The Department of Education, Training and Employment; The Smith Family; Regional Development, Australia; Busy at Work and Group Training Australia worked together on the development of the app — now available from the Apple app store.
